ROYAL BIOGRAPHY and TIMELINE

Insightful Wisdom — Na'auao 'ike

I've lived with the knowledge that every person is a part of my life, including those who nod to me in the streets, those who smile at me, those who talk to me, those who insult me, those who speak all manner of evil against me, those who compliment me, those who love me, those who hate me, those who like me, those who follow me, those who inspire me, those who call me friend, and those who have taught me how cruel and insensitive humans can be.

*Human beings are a complicated life force, simply because they want to be. It doesn't have to be that way. Living in harmony with nature, the natural world, and the human family is all that we are called upon to do — yet, we fail. Life is all about lessons. Lessons you learn from success, and particularly failure and hardship, will eventually define who you will become. The lessons learned from all those who have touched my life were necessary for me to become the man I am today.

I've lived with the knowledge that the good, bad, and ugly, are a part of my life. I've learned that my life journey is unique only to me. I chose to experience every action and thought without knowing that the lessons I've learned would prepare me for the position I now hold as Ali'i Nui Mō'i, Sovereign King of The Kingdom of Hawai'i — Nou Ke Akua Ke Aupuni O Hawai'i.

My walk throughout life has brought me into contact with those that love and support me and also with those that have exercised evil against me. Evil that was designed to destroy my character, good name, and credibility. The degree of Evil surprised me. It was Evil that was carefully crafted to push away those whom I love and to destroy my family. I was, for a time, forced into isolation, alone in a world without Ha (breath of life).

I learned a deep lesson. History is not just what we perceive our past to be, and definitely not what we wish the past had been. But, in the end, everything matters. Knowing what was said and done and knowing the past, is how we appreciate and make sense of the present.

*Having gone through the crucibles of life and having lived through life's most challenging traps and snares set by the evil minds of humans, has taught me a most valuable lesson. Be true to yourself and never compromise your "truth". Never bow to tyranny, lies, slander, gossip, threat of imprisonment, or fear of losing your life. Evil appears, but it's nothing to be afraid of. There is hidden wisdom within this knowing. Embrace it with integrity, honor, and strength, which comes only from a person who is unafraid to stand up to evil.

Personal Heritage

Edmund K. Paki-Silva, Jr., was born to Edmund K. Silva, (Paki) Sr. and Cecelia K. (Paki-Needham) Silva. He is one of 9 children. Both parents come from the royal ranks of ancient Hawaiian ancestry. Their royal positions are indisputable, sacred and righteous to the Ni'au pi'o, or sanctified lines. At an opportune time, his Kahuna Nui, High Priestess and First Citizen, Mikahala Roy, shall chant the King's Royal Genealogy at all formal and important engagements to bring the ancient royal Ancestors forward, standing as surety and witness before the world that he is the Mō'i – Sovereign King of the Kingdom of Hawai'i. When this sacred ceremony occurs, all will hear and feel within their spirit the sacredness that has been bestowed upon him.

Indisputable Royal Genealogy:

Edmund Keli'i Silva, Jr., comes from the Highest Royal Bloodlines and is widely acknowledged as a man of great intelligence, a man of highest integrity, a man of peace, a man of destiny, and a man of vision, who has dedicated his life to improve the Hawaiian Islands, as well as the world, through self-sustainability projects and programs.

The King's genealogy traces to King Kamehameha I and King Kamehameha Nui of Mau'i, linking him to the highest-ranking bloodlines of Hawaiian Royalty. Per ancient protocol in selecting a King, descendants of the original members of the House of Nobles established by King Kamehameha III, selected Edmund K. Silva, Jr., Ali'i Nui Mō'i, High Chief and King of and for, the Kingdom of Hawai'i.

It may be noted that Queen Lili'uokalani, in her book Hawai'i's Story, speaks to the unwritten law of Hawai'i Nei when choosing a chief to rule:

"Since the king had refused to nominate his successor, the election was with the legislature. It must not be forgotten, however, that the unwritten law of Hawai'i Nei required that the greatest chief, or the one having the most direct claim to the throne, must rule. The legislature could not choose from the people at large but was confined to a decision between rival claimants having an equal or nearly equal relation in the chiefhood to the throne."

It may also be noted that Queen Emma, who was the wife of King Kamehameha IV, prophesied that a sacred child would restore the Kingdom of Hawai'i. Ali'i Nui Mō'i, Edmund K. Silva, Jr. is believed to be the sacred child of whom she spoke, and has been given the sacred name, Nalikolauokalani Paki Ka'i 'Ōmaka-olahou-Kaluaokalani-Ka'i-mano-'ānu'unu'u-ka-lamakea-i-ho'okū-ke-aupuni-o-Hawai'i.

His Royal Lineage dates back to 316 AD. His genealogical record exhibits an impeccable chain of custody. It is the original record of the Royal Courts and was last chanted in the Royal Court in 1836. Because Kamehameha 'Ai Lu'au, King of Ma'i Kingdom, represented the highest and greatest birthright in all

Hawai`i Nei, his record had been threatening to some of the Kamehameha I (the Great) dynasty in power at that time.

His lineage is also popularly known as that of King Kekaulike, who was the King of Mau`i and the father of Kamehameha Nui `Ai Lu`au. Mau`i Kingdom was ancient Hawai`i's most powerful and significant Kingdom. It comprised the most Divine Royal Lineage whose origins derived from the most ancient birthrights from Oahu and Kaua`i. His genealogical record was the ancient oral chant, kept and added upon throughout the millennia and throughout the voyages of his ancestors into the Pacific when settling the uninhabited islands.

His lineage was kept by specific priesthood holders and solemnly recited in the Royal Courts of the Kingdoms of Mau`i, Hawai`i, Oahu and Kaua`i.

In order to protect Hawai`i's highest royal birthright, the `Ohana's family record was put into writing by the royal genealogist, Hoku Pakipika, shortly after the birth of the sacred High Chief of highest rank, Kapahupineia-Kaleikoa-Keopuhiwa-Paki on February 14, 1871.

At that time, Kamehameha V was Hawai`i's King and the last of the Kamehameha I dynasty, which was of lower lineage to Kamehameha Nui `Ai Lu`au.

The two royal heirs of Kamehameha I had additional lineage to the High Chief's daughter Kalola, of King Kekaulike, the mere younger sister of King Kamehameha Nui `Ai Lu`au. King Kamehameha V, grandson of Kamehameha I, died on December 11, 1872, and was the last of the Kamehameha dynasty.

There was political turmoil as Kamehameha V did not appoint a successor to his throne. Lunalilo, a grand-nephew of Kamehameha I, was elected king but died about a year later, January 8, 1873. On February 13, 1873, Kalakaua was elected king. Kalakaua claimed his highest vestments through High Chief Iwikauikaua. Iwikauikaua was the great-grandson of Keli`iokaloa, eldest son of Umi-a-Liloa. However, Keli`iokaloa was an unrighteous king that was killed, and his kingdom and birthright were taken by his younger brother, Keawenui-a-Umi.

Kalakaua's royal pedigree is then mired in the intermarriages among Chieftains from the Island of Hawai`i, all of lower lineage compared to the blue-blood of Kamehameha Nui `Ai Lu`au. King Kalakaua intended to avoid future legislative elections of kings by appointing a long line of successors to which included his three siblings and three nephews of his wife, Queen Consort Kapiolani. One nephew was David Kawananakoa whose pedigree claimed Hawai`i Island's highest lineage, Kaumuali`i, King of Kaua`i as well as cousin relationship to the Kamehameha I Chieftains from the Island of Hawai`i. We note that Kaumuali`i was a grandson of King Kekaulike through a lesser marriage. Kekaulike joined with Holau, the 3rd great granddaughter of Umi-a-Liloa, and had a son, Ka`eokulani. Ka`eokulani, joined with Queen Kamakahelei who ruled Kaua`i Kingdom at the time Captain Cook first arrived. Their son was King Kaumuali`i. Comparatively, King Kekaulike's highest marriage was to his half-sister, Kekuiapoianui, from which was born his heir, King Kamehameha Nui `Ai Lu`au. The resulting Kawananakoa line comes from a much lower lineage comparative to Kamehameha Nui `Ai Lu`au. The Kawananakoa line had never come to rule in any way.

There were fears over threats of assassination upon the child heir of the Kamehameha Nui `Ai Lu`au line, Kapahupinea Kaleikoa Keopuhiwa Paki. This High Princess was protected by a Chinese merchant whose cultural covenants to protect Hawai`i's royal lines predate the 15th century Hawai`i.

The genealogical records of His Royal Majesty, Nalikolauokalani Paki - Ka`Ī`Ōmaka-olahou-Kaluaokalani-Ka`Ī-mano-`ānu`unu`u-ka-lamakea-i-ho`okū-ke-aupuni-o-Hawai`i, are much involved and indisputable.

Formal Education:

On July 30, 2019, King Keli`i earned the Ph.D. (Doctor of Education ED. D) for Higher Education Leadership Degree from Rockfield College of Management Zurich Switzerland. He graduated 4.0, Summa Cum Laude. His Dissertation was: Indigenous Intuitive Education Model: Exploring Learning Methods of First Nations Culture and Traditions – A Case Study of The Kingdom of Hawai`i, (©2019 Edmund K. Silva Jr. - RCM Switzerland, all rights reserved). On June 17, 2019, the Board of Regents officially appointed him Chancellor. On July 23 he became Chairman for Indigenous Studies & Advocacy, and on August 20, 2019, he became a Lifetime Tenured Professor.

On June 7, 1996, King Keli`i was a registered student at Word in Action Ministry College of Law, and graduated with distinction and high honors where he earned the Degree of Juris Doctor (JD). He exceeded all expectations, averaging 79% percentile in his class. He continued his higher education through His Majesty King Allen Neoh Weng Wah's privately owned University – His Majesties University of The Borneo Nation, where he earned his PhD. in Political Science. His Dissertation, The Rule of Ancient Hawaiian, European and American Laws and the Role of Justice – Bludgeons, Blunders and Bloodletting, (©2005 Edmund K. Silva Jr, all rights reserved), was skillfully written, earning him the highest respect and admiration from his professors, administrators, colleagues and peers.

It is King Keli`i's extensive studies in Business, Economics, Agriculture, Aquaculture, Political Science, Treaty Laws, Laws of Nations, International Laws, Constitutional Laws, Fishery, Asian Philosophy, Ancestral Laws, Traditional Laws, Biblical Laws and Hawaiian Culture that drive his philosophy about education – that education creates perfect knowledge and ultimately becomes wisdom.

For Indigenous People around the globe, learning focuses on comprehending the essence of life. Life is filled with connectiveness. The Way of Knowing is the manner of Indigenous knowledge. The Way of Knowing directly and intuitively gives knowledge and affirms truth, correctness and righteousness. It develops around a life-long love of learning. First Nation cultures seek after truth which is affirmed by spirit. This “seeking” feeds a thirst for knowledge and understanding. The First Nation mind is open and explorative.

King Keli`i's Doctoral Dissertation on Indigenous Intuitive Education Models has been adopted as major reference literature for Undergraduate and Graduate Degree Programs in Indigenous Knowledge by the School of Education and Social Sciences at RCST Rockfield College of Sciences and Technology Switzerland.

As current reigning monarch of The Kingdom of Hawai`i, Edmund Keli`i Silva Jr., Ali`i Nui Mō`ī, Sovereign King, is just as staunchly involved in education as the key to a better future for Hawaiians and Indigenous world-wide. King Keli'i 's own education has brought the two worlds together with an extensive curriculum vitae from Western Education, in a blend with his royal education as the future king when he was a young man.

The King's Western-education credentials include:

Words in Action Ministry College of Law

Degree of Juris Doctor (JD)

His Majesty's University of The Borneo Nation

Doctorate of Political Science

Rockfield College of Sciences and Technology

Doctor of Law, Constitutional, Criminal & Treaty Law

Martial Arts:

King Keli'i comes from a long line of High Chiefs and Warriors who practiced the Hawaiian Martial Arts, Lua. His skills of mind, body and spirit transcend the Warrior Spirit. Today, he is known as the 'Peaceful Warrior of Light'.

He is a celebrated Grandmaster and Professor of Chi Kung Tung Kung-Fu. He is also a 9th Degree Black Belt from Grand Tuhon Leo T. Gaje, Jr., in Pekiti Tirsia Kali, a Filipino Marital Arts and Master of Hawaiian Lua and Jujitsu. In October 24, 1987, he was inducted into the prestigious Martial Arts Hall of Fame.

Service:

King Keli'i has trained State and Federal Law Enforcement officers of all disciplines within the United States Military and foreign secret service in the proven and effective skills of close quarter fighting.

He was on active duty in the United States Army and held a Top-Secret NATO clearance. He was Ambassador for United Hawaiian Sovereignty, Co-Chairman on the Ways and Means Committee for Hui Na`auao, Spiritual Counselor for the Nation of Ku, and President of Silva Royal Polynesian Martial Arts.

King Keli'i is a Member of the 1st Order of the Royal Order of Kamehameha. He was knighted Sir Edmund K. Silva, Jr. on September 9, 2011 and received the title, Knight Grand Cross of Justice, from the Grand Prior General His Grace Duke Michael Gardham, as well as Officers of the Imperial and Charitable Order of Constantine the Great and St. Helen.

Past Challenges Overcome:

Testimony from Federal Attorney Lanny Sinkin Regarding Imprisonment

Conclusion of Law; "Silence can only be equated with fraud when there is a legal or moral duty to speak, or when an inquiry left unanswered would be intentionally misleading... We cannot condone this shocking conduct... If that is the case we hope our message is clear. This sort of deception will not be tolerated and if this is routine it should be corrected immediately", U.S. v. Tweel, 550 F2d 297, 299-300 (1997)

In the early 1990s, His Majesty was sentenced to 24 years in prison for a crime he never committed. The money he received was an investment into the "Safe on Your Own, a Women's Guide to Self-Defense" video. What was a speculative investment somehow became a loan. There was no contract stating it was a loan and it was testified that the money given was an investment only. Somehow, the investor converted a speculative investment into a criminal charge. Although offered a plea bargain of 10 years' probation, His Majesty refused to plead guilty to a false charge. He went to trial in Colorado with a public defender.

None of his witnesses from Hawai'i were able to travel that far to confirm that he had created the video, "Safe on Your Own, a Women's Guide to Self-Defense" and that this money was never a loan, but an investment in the video promising that a women can defend herself if ever she was attacked. But even more so, the financiers invested in the Grandmaster, who was world renowned and a member of the Prestigious Martial Arts Hall of Fame.

He has also used the funds to create a real estate company, as he had agreed with the investor. Century 21 Kaiulani Properties operated from 1992 to 1994. The company was on the verge of a very large real estate sale when the company collapsed after his arrest.

He challenged the arrest and jurisdiction of the court, saying there is no debtor's prison, and questioning why he was cuffed and treated like a criminal. For no crime was committed. If a crime was committed, then jurisdiction should have been in Aspen, Colorado or the State of Hawai'i. Instead, he was put on trial in Fort Collins, a hot bed of KKK activity. In the absence of his witnesses, the jury found him guilty. (It should be noted that the members of the jury -- 9 White women and 3 White men -- were not his peers). Having demonstrated personal hostility to His Majesty, the judge then imposed the extraordinarily long sentence of 24 years, well beyond the statutory maximum sentence for the crime alleged. His conspirators hoped he would die in prison, never to see the light of day. Their plans failed.

There was another failed attempt to discredit him as well... Prime Minister Samuel Kaluna and John Dudoit met a man who convinced both of the men that he had gold, and that they should create Kingdom Bonds backed by the supposed gold he held. That was a huge lie. The two men were gullible and trusting, and they were left holding guilt and despair in their hearts for having trusted a con-man that single handedly shamed them for their trust. Somehow, the King's name was used without his consent to qualify the bonds as being real and a good investment.

By then, the King was a political prisoner and had no knowledge of these supposedly gold backed bonds. The original idea was that the gold could be used to back the sale of Kingdom bonds to raise the funds necessary for restoration. For that reason, a website was created to call attention to the general public. The website was called 'The Royal Kupuna Exchange'. As it turned out, the person representing that he had gold was a liar, who had entrapped the government members into a fraudulent scheme, because there was no gold. It was also believed that this individual was a plant to sabotage the restoration efforts of the Kingdom.

Unfortunately, the created website had used the good King's name without his expressed permission or knowledge. I discovered the website and informed the King of its existence. When the King said that he had never been asked for, or given his authorization that his name to be associated with the website, I went to work to force the website to be taken down, and it was.

There was a publication in Hawai'i that wrote about the Royal Kupuna Exchange that incorrectly implicated the King as a participant. Despite my best efforts to clear the King's name, they refused to correct the record or remove the false report. So, the story remained on the Internet and brought undeserved discredit upon the King. For the record, the King continued to serve his people even while behind prison walls.

While in prison, he was subjected to covert operations attempting to frustrate his efforts to restore the Hawaiian Kingdom, a matter that can be confirmed by me as his attorney. That the United States committed major resources to conducting such operations against the King demonstrated to me their belief that he was indeed the one who could restore the Kingdom.

Legal opinion of Chief Justice Jennifer Pawlowski Regarding Fraudulent Bonds

As Chief Justice for the Kingdom of Hawai'i, I have reviewed the evidence and files surrounding HRM Edmund K. Silva Jr.'s false imprisonment in Colorado, and have come to the conclusion that the only reason HRM Edmund K. Silva Jr. was sentenced to 24 years and served 14 years for a crime he did not commit is because of who he is.

The business arrangement between HRM Edmund K. Silva and the investor, which formed the crux of the meritless allegations against him, can most accurately be categorized as a private contract between two individuals. Both those individuals were free to choose the terms and conditions of their agreement, and they did in fact do so. At most, if there was any breakdown in communication or a break down in the relationship between H.R.M. Edmund K. Silva Jr. and the investor, the only remedy available to either party would have been in the form of a breach of contract action in a civil court (See Colorado Civil Code). Instead, in a gross miscarriage of justice, the United States converted this private civil matter into a criminal action, labeling it as "fraud by deception," and sentenced HRM Edmund K. Silva Jr. to 24 years in prison, a sentence that exceeds the sentences given to even rapists and murderers.

In other words, because the investor felt that the terms and conditions of her agreement with HRM Edmund K. Silva Jr. were somehow breached, the United States took that opportunity to put a major threat to their illegal stranglehold on the Hawaiian Kingdom behind bars in a prison far away in Colorado, where they hoped they could keep HRM Edmund K. Silva Jr. and deter him from his efforts of restoring the Kingdom. There is nothing the United States government can do to rectify the horrible wrong they committed against HRM Edmund K. Silva Jr. because of the threat he posed to their military occupation of Hawai'i. By restoring the Kingdom, the impact of the time he spent in prison for a crime he did not commit would at least be minimized by the knowledge that the Kingdom of Hawai'i was now in its rightful place as a nation amongst the family of nations in the world.

National Restoration Project — Aloha `Aina:

Ali`i Nui Mō`ī, King Keli`i, has established the Aloha `Aina Project. The mission of the Aloha `Aina Project is to facilitate the rebuilding of the people of Hawai'i into a vibrant, healthy and prosperous society, by using a comprehensive approach to raise and improve the overall quality of life in the Hawaiian Islands.

The Aloha `Aina Project is a major public work's project, which will be spread over 10 or more years. The mission of the Aloha `Aina Project is to revitalize and heal the Kingdom of Hawai'i – her islands, the infrastructure, the people, the businesses, the society, the culture. The Aloha `Aina Project, during the process of, and at its completion, will not only become an example to the global community of a sustainable, healthy nation, but more importantly, a Nation and land of PEACE.

The Aloha `Aina Project includes:

- Healing ecological wounds
- Reducing human contributions to climate instability
- Transitioning to a fully organic and self-sustaining agricultural system
- Establishing health and wellness centers
- Public health outreach programs
- Building affordable housing
- Stability for the homeless
- Encouraging the development of new technologies for sustainability
- Transforming the educational system to enhance creative thinking and resolve challenges

Peace Center:

The Peace Center (Hālau Aomaluhiamauloa) project has also been designed by Ali`i Nui Mō`ī, King Keli`i which will offer Hawaiian Ho`oponopono conflict resolution services world-wide. The Peace Center is based on Indigenous culture and traditions including the Way of Knowing. This instills a high level of integrity and honor throughout the process and offers a unique alternative to all Nations.

NĀNĀ I KE KUMU:

LOOK TO YOUR SENSE OF PLACE AND SOURCES OF SPIRIT AND YOU FIND YOUR TRUTH

*Since 1893, many have spoken of the overthrow of the Kingdom of Hawai`i. Many have died in faith. The issues facing us as the Human Family are not only for one person to solve, but for all of us working together as one, to solve. Together, we can solve anything.

In a vision, I saw the creation of a 'true' Peace Center, that stands firmly for light, respect and love for all creation, built here in the Hawaiian Islands.

In that vision, the Hālau Aomaluhiamauloa – House of Enlightenment and Peace – united all nations to stand in solidarity as one voice and one people to protect the earth, from land to sea, from unprecedented destruction that would change the landscape of our planet forevermore. This Peace Center healed the hearts of its nations.

Edmund Keli`i Paki-Silva, Jr., Ali`i Nui Mō`ī

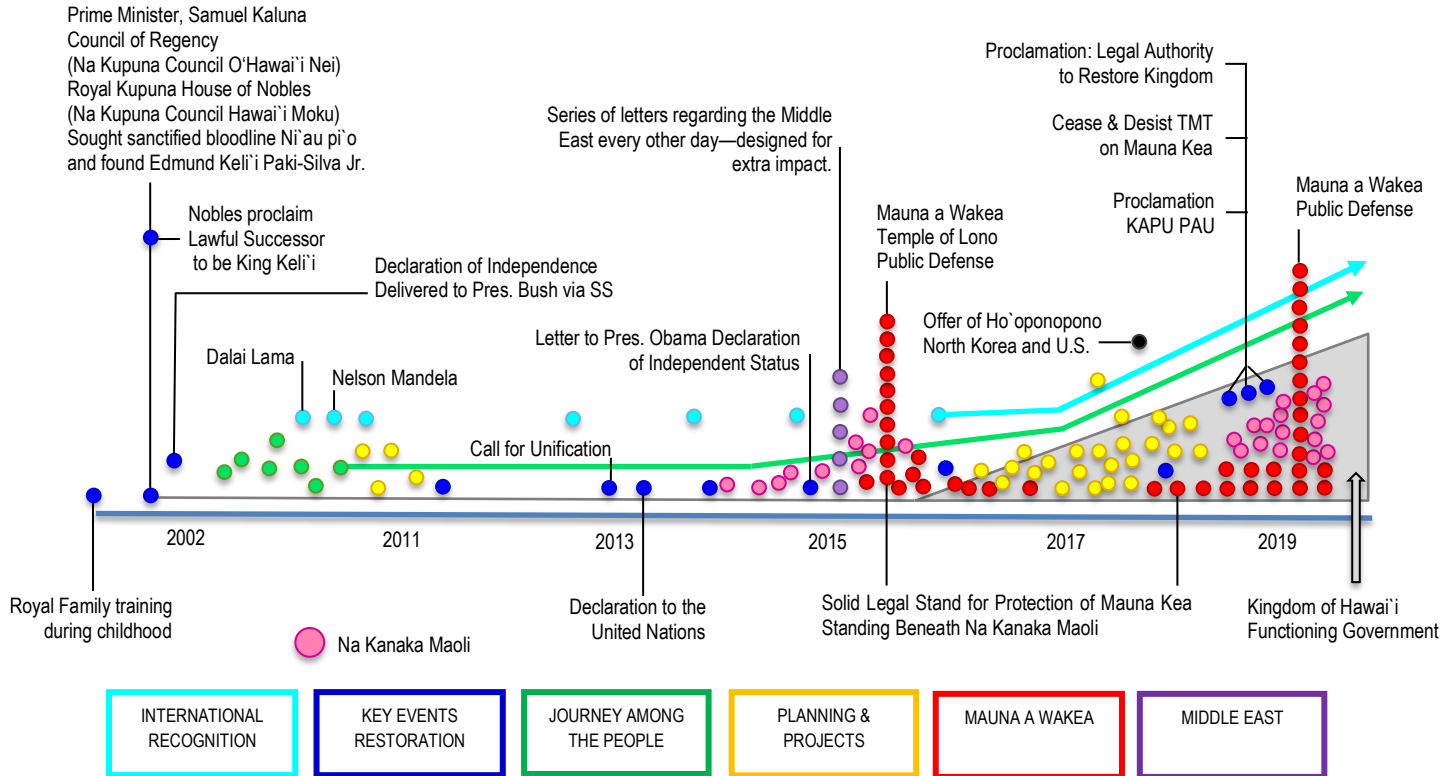

THE KINGDOM IS A NON-ALIGNED NATION WITH NO AGENDA INTERNATIONALLY OTHER THAN PEACE

The Kingdom invites the nations of the world to come to Hawai`i to explore the pathways to peaceful resolution of conflicts.
